SUNDAY'S READINGS

First Reading

David found Saul in a deep sleep, but would not harm him (1 Samuel 26:2, 7-9, 12-13, 22-23).

Psalm

The Lord is kind and merciful (Psalm 103).

Second Reading

We shall bear the image of the heavenly Adam (1 Corinthians 15:45-49).

Gospel

Give to everyone who asks of you. Lend expecting nothing back (Luke 6:27-38).

REFLECT

LOVE AS GOD LOVES

Our Gospel today continues Jesus' Sermon on the Plain, in which we heard Luke's version of the Beatitudes. This week, Jesus gives us new "commandments," telling us how to live and act in the world as his disciples, rooted in the radical love of God for humanity. It reminds us of his later speech about loving one another as he loves us, in other words with a God-like love, the kind we see in today's psalm about God's mercy. How else could we do as Jesus tells us by loving our enemies, which seems impossible, until we remember that God gave us the example of Jesus, who is like God but also like us? David understands this merciful love when he spares the life of his enemy in the first reading. Finally, Paul tells us that we will become like Jesus if we act as he did, as God does.

Fully Alive

Liturgical Living for Every Day

Memorial

A MEMORIAL is a day of celebration on the Church calendar. It ranks below solemnities and feasts. Some memorials are so minor that they are optional. The others are obligatory.

Memorials include the observance of saints' days in honor of Thomas Aquinas (January 28), Catherine of Siena (April 29), Justin (June 1), Anthony of Padua (June 13), Benedict (July 11), Mary Magdalene (July 22), Dominic (August 8), Clare (August 11), Maximilian Kolbe (August 14), Monica (August 27), Augustine (August 28), Gregory the Great (September 3), Jerome (September 30), Therese of Lisieux (October 1), Guardian Angels (October 2), Francis of Assisi (October 4), Our Lady of the Rosary (October 7), Martin of Tours (November 11), Cecilia (November 22), and Lucy (December 13). There are many more.

If a memorial falls on a day of higher rank- a Sunday, for example- it is not observed at the liturgy that year. Falling on a weekday, however, an obligatory memorial will always be observed. Optional memorials (such as Hedwig on October 16 or John of Kanty on December 23) may be celebrated or ignored.

On a memorial day, the readings at Mass are generally those of the usual weekday. Optional readings are supplied in the lectionary for each memorial, but these are not required. In some cases, when the saint of the day is mentioned in the New Testament, the reading for the memorial is obligatory. This happens, for example, with Mary Magdalene. The Collect will always be proper to the memorial. The Prayer over the Offerings, the Preface, and the Prayer after Communion may also pertain to the memorial. The priest vests in a color associated with the saint of the day, whether white or red.

Hey Family, Let's Talk About This!

Who is a Saint we could celebrate on their Memorial (or Feast)? What would we do to celebrate them?

Why do you think the church calendar has three different levels of celebrations (Solemnities, Feasts, and Memorials)?

PRAYER OF THE WEEK

Seventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

Grant, we pray, almighty God,
that, always pondering spiritual things,
we may carry out in both word and deed
that which is pleasing to you.
Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
God, for ever and ever.

Repentance & Renewal: A Journey through the Sunday Readings during Lent

Jim McGill will present six classes on the Scripture readings from the Sundays of Lent of this year.

Each week we will look at the readings for the upcoming Sunday with an eye toward their biblical background, their overall theological perspective, and their application to us as we make our Lenten journey of repentance and renewal.

SPEAKER SERIES

Friday, March 4

9:00am - Church

Speaker: Arland Nichols

Topic: Living and Passing on the Faith within the Home

Please join us for Mass at 8:30am and stay for our GSCC Speaker Series: Living and Passing on the Faith within the Home.

Arland Nichols, president and founder of the St. John Paul II Foundation, will join us for a talk on the incredible calling and responsibility of parents to be the primary educators of their children. His talk will present the following:

- Spouses must first be witnesses and are called to live their faith intelligently, intentionally, and ardently.
- Families cannot go it alone but need to form and create small communities of evangelizing families who live the gospel and, in turn, radiate it to the world.
- The goal of marriage and family life is to grow together in holiness so that each and all members of the family might enjoy Heaven.
- Families are blessed to be the primary agents of the Gospel mission and as the family goes so goes the whole world.

For nearly a decade Arland taught at a Catholic high school and worked at an international nonprofit. During those years he became a popular speaker, successful writer, and he established the groundwork for launching the St. John Paul II Foundation. Arland earned a BA in philosophy from Texas A&M, an MDiv in Theology from University of St. Thomas, and is completing a PhD in bioethics from Regina Apostolorum in Rome. With the generous support of his wife, Cindy, and their eight children, Arland is blessed to lead the St. John Paul II Foundation as it becomes the foremost Catholic non-profit proclaiming the Good News of life and family.

Spotlight on our Little Lambs Teachers

Paola Ventura: Lambs Class (3 year old class)

Paola is in her third year of teaching at Little Lambs. She has been married to John for 13 years and they have two children, Matthew and Sofia. Sofia attended Little Lambs as a two-year and as a three-year-old. Paola fell in love with the program first as a parent. Before becoming a stay at home mom, Paola worked at the United Nations in NYC for 15 years as an international civil servant. She and her family moved to Colleyville in 2015 and have been Good Shepherd parishioners since then. Both Paola and her husband grew up Catholic and hope to instill those values in their children. Paola loves working at Little Lambs because she can see how a tiny seed of love for God grows in the kids each and every day and it is a privilege to be part of that. Paola loves to volunteer in her community. She is a Girl Scout Troop Leader and spends a lot of time volunteering at her children's schools. Paola also has a passion for running and she has ran in several marathons and half marathons. She shares this love of exercise and movement with the students too. She shows them how strong God made them and how they can do anything if they just try.

Mary Beth Reagor: Lambs Class (3 year old class)

Mary Beth graduated from the University of North Texas in 2019. She has been teaching PreK for three years, two of those at Little Lambs. Good Shepherd and Catholic education hold a very dear place in her heart. She is an alumna of Holy Trinity (where her mom, Katie O'Donnell still teaches) and has been a parishioner at Good Shepherd for over ten years. She and her husband, Caleb, were married here this past June.

Mary Beth loves working at Little Lambs because she sees Jesus in the face of every child and is so honored to help in the formation of little saints. Mary Beth has a strong desire to help each child own and have self-awareness for their socio-emotional behaviors. She can be heard saying things like, "I understand you feel...(or) ...That seems like it's made you nervous, sad, frustrated; or excited and happy..." Mary Beth has a special way of helping our three-year-old children to identify and put words with their emotions and feelings. When she is not teaching, Mary Beth can be found crafting or in one of the area's many coffee shops.
