REFLECT

PROPHETS

We reflect upon the voice of the prophet in this Sunday's readings. We hear of the suffering and the rescue of Jeremiah. We hear how Jesus anticipates his suffering and death. As with Jeremiah and Jesus, the prophets were sent by God to the leaders and people of Israel. A prophet is one who speaks truth to the powerful, exposing their darker hidden motives and injustices. The prophet presents a way forward that aligns with God's purposes. A prophet can force people away from a comfortable neutrality or indifference. The prophet creates an urgency to make a choice: Are we content with the status quo, or are we to change our ways and pursue a new and better path? Today, we may also ask, how do we identify and respond to prophets of our time? How might we provide a prophetic voice in our Church and in our world?

Fully Alive

Liturgical Living for Every Day

When deacons first appeared in our sanctuaries in the late 1960s, it seemed like another new-fangled idea. Actually, it's a rather old-fangled idea that originated only a few years after Jesus died. You can find their story in Acts of the Apostles 6, where a racial dispute over unequal food rations for women convinced the apostles there had to be a better way to do business. By the time Paul wrote to Timothy and Titus, deacons were firmly established.

Deacons have three missions: charitable works, preaching the Gospel, and assisting in the liturgy. It's been that way from the beginning. In the early Church, the deacons instructed the faithful when to sit, stand, kneel, and leave. Because they assisted with Baptisms when candidates came naked to the font, deaconesses helped the women catechumens. In time, deacons wore two vestments of liturgical colors: a stole worn diagonally and an exterior garment called a dalmatic—very much like the chasuble, the large outer vestment of the priest, but with sleeves.

Through centuries of clericalism, the office of deacon fell into disuse except for those pursuing priesthood. But they still assisted at the liturgy. We see this today, when deacons assist at the liturgy giving instructions to the assembly. For example, at the Good Friday liturgy a deacon (or lay minister) sings out, "Flectamus genua," waits a few moments, and then sings, "Levate" as part of the Universal Prayer. That's a quintessential deacon job: Tell people when to kneel and when to stand.

Today, of course, we're familiar with deacons who proclaim the Gospel, instruct us to offer the Sign of Peace, and dismiss us from the service. They preach, baptize, witness marriage, bless people and articles, bury the dead, and use the same liturgical greeting (e.g., "The Lord be with you.") as the priest. The difference is that these guys are not on their way to becoming priests. Their call is to be deacons.

At Mass, the priest invites us to prayer ("Let us pray.") The deacon invites us to action ("Let us offer each other the sign of peace.") How dramatic then that the deacon proclaims the Gospel. He's not just reading a story—he's giving us instructions on what to do next. He invites us to live the Gospel we hear.

Hey Family, Let's Talk About This!

How long have we had Deacons in the church?

What are the three main missions of a Deacon?

In what ways does the Deacon call us to action?

PRAYER OF THE WEEK

Twentieth Sunday in Ordinary Time

O God, who have prepared for those who love you good things which no eye can see, fill our hearts, we pray, with the warmth of your love,
so that, loving you in all things and above all things,
we may attain your promises, which surpass every human desire.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
God, for ever and ever.

AUG 20 CRHP MEN'S RETREAT

Saturday, August 20 - Sunday, August 21
7:00am - GSCC Campus

Christ Renews His Parish is a spiritual renewal weekend designed to help individuals grow in their personal relationship with Jesus Christ and with others in their faith community. It is an excellent opportunity for Catholics to renew their understanding of the basic beliefs and traditions of their faith. It is a time to relax, pray, think about our priorities and refresh ourselves spiritually. More importantly, it allows you the opportunity to examine, rediscover, and intensify your personal relationship with Christ. This is a two-day retreat unlike any you have previously attended. Parishioners share with one another the ways they have found meaning, hope, peace and love in their lives. They even share laughs along the way. The experience is personal, inspirational, and fulfilling. Many participants feel that the weekend experience has been among the most powerful and positive of their lives. The atmosphere is casual and you will begin friendships that will last a lifetime. Many of your fellow parishioners, who have previously attended, will be happy to share their experience. BIRDS & BEES

WITH MARY FLO RIDLEY & MEGAN MICHELSON

www.gsccl.net/birdsandbees

Birds & Bees is a simple course that gives parents the tools and confidence to talk to their young kids about sex. It offers simple, practical strategies to help parents tackle the talk and become the loving authority on this topic. It is ideal for parents of kids ages 1-10 who:

- want their child to learn about sex from them, NOT their friends or the internet
- want to handle this differently than their parents did, but don't know how
- want CLEAR direction and a PLAN to tackle this topic
- want to build open and safe communication in their family
- want to protect their kids from the sex-saturated culture

Both parents are encouraged to attend the course in order to be on the same page and create their plan together.

The course will be offered on Monday, August 22 in the Upper Room. An optional light meal will be provided at 5:30pm. The course will begin promptly at 6:00pm and finish by 7:30pm. Child care will be available.

Cost: $10 per household (includes light meal).

Please register at www.gsccl.net/birdsandbees for both the event and child care.

Little Lambs' mission is to provide a positive preschool experience that helps develop social skills, promotes independence, and fosters a love of learning. Little Lambs provides a caring, faith-filled, Catholic environment. Little Lambs recognizes the "Whole Child" as a child of God, and appreciates the child for who God created the child to be. We partner with parents to ensure the child follows the teachings of the Catholic Faith, Jesus Christ, and that the child grows to answer the call of God's voice.
