Second Reading

Paul asks Philemon to accept back his slave Onesimus, not as a slave but as a brother (Philemon 9-10, 12-17).

REFLECT

LIMITS

Today's readings continue the theme of humility explored last Sunday. All three readings today encourage us to admit that we have limits, and God has none. The poignant poetry of Wisdom resonates with all of us who have ever struggled for peace in situations we cannot control: "For the corruptible body burdens the soul and the earthen shelter weighs down the mind that has many concerns." Saint Paul recognizes his own limitations, both physically (he is in prison) and spiritually: he cannot compel his friend to obey his wishes; he can only propose his request and respect Philemon's free will. In the Gospel, Jesus reminds us that God alone can complete the good we wish to do in the world. While we thank God for the gifts we receive—and the families we love—we acknowledge that they are temporary, and humbly cling to God.

PONDER

What would be true freedom for me?

WORSHIP

DO NOT THINK THAT LOVE, IN ORDER TO BE GENUINE, HAS TO BE EXTRAORDINARY. WHAT WE NEED IS TO

Love without getting tired

-ST. TERESA OF CALCUTTA

Fully Alive

Liturgical Living for Every Day

Vesture for Ministers

The diversity of vestments shows the diversity of ministries. At almost any Eucharist, the priest's attire differs from the server's. A deacon also wears vestments pertinent to his ministry. Readers rarely do. The assembly wears no liturgical vesture. Communion ministers in some communities wear something to distinguish their role; in other communities, they do not. There is no universal rule governing this choice.

The vestment common to ministers of every rank is the alb, a loose-fitting, full-body white garment with sleeves. It may be bound at the waist with a cincture. Altar servers frequently wear an alb or its shorter version, the waist-length surplice, donned over a cassock. The vestments for all ministers other than priest and deacon may be determined regionally. Servers wear vestments by local tradition more than by Church law. A customary vesture of readers or Communion ministers is less generally observed.

Within a particular parish or diocese, you may see Communion ministers in an alb or some other local vesture. Some communities ask their ministers to wear a pin or pendant identifying their service. Many avoid insignia that might compete with those that identify other ministers: Stoles belong on deacons and priests; the pectoral cross identifies a bishop. Liturgical attire for Communion ministers may lend to the solemnity of the ceremony, but dressing like others in the assembly may emphasize the service all are called to render.

Thoughtful lectors and ministers of communion who wear no liturgical vestment generally want to appear appropriately dressed for their service. They choose attire that calls less attention to themselves and more to the word they proclaim and the communion they share with the assembly.

Hey Family, Let's Talk About This!

What are some main differences between the clergy's vestments and the altar server's vestments at Good Shepherd?

Do Good Shepherd's Communion Ministers or Readers have different vestments?

Why is it important for the different ministers to wear different clothing?

PRAYER OF THE WEEK

Twenty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

O God, by whom we are redeemed and receive adoption,

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
God, for ever and ever.

Walking with Purpose invites all women to journey through Scripture together and build relationships that matter!

Join us for Walking with Purpose starting September 21 in the Shepherd Center at 9:30am. Our first Study will be a 9 week study of "Beholding Your King" followed by a 6 week study of "Fearless and Free".

NEW STUDY BEGINS THIS FALL!

gsc.net/scripturestudy

Beholding Your King | Wednesdays, Sept 21 – Nov 15, 9:30 – 11:00am

We live in a self-centered culture that all too often leaves us feeling empty and dissatisfied. A fuller view of God and His glory is the perfect antidote, which you will experience in Beholding Your King. We'll study King David, select psalms, the temple, and many Old Testament prophets and see the ways in which they all point to the coming King of Kings, Jesus Christ.

Cost: $20 for Study Guide

Fearless and Free | Wednesdays, March 1, 2023 – April 5, 2023 10:00 – 11:30am

Fearless and Free is a six-lesson Bible study based on the book of Ephesians. So many of us are wrestling through the reality that life isn't easy, even when we are doing the right thing. Suffering can slam into us from left field, leaving us reeling. This study provides a firm foundation to stand on no matter what life throws our way. With an emphasis on healing and wholeness, Fearless and Free is the most personal and transformative study that Walking with Purpose has offered so far.

Cost: $20 for Study Guide
